

What if I have a Yellow Card or a Yellow Card Exemption?

From 1 February 2021 new worker screening laws will be introduced in Queensland to improve the safety and quality of services delivered through the NDIS.

If you already have a valid yellow card or yellow card exemption you won't need to get an NDIS worker screening clearance until your card expires or is cancelled.

You will need to apply for your NDIS worker screening check before your yellow card or yellow card exemption expires. You can do this up to 3 months before its expiry.
